

---

From: Scott Howard
Sent: Tuesday, March 29, 2011 4:13 PM
To: Scott Howard
Subject: FW: 2796.201130: conversation-starters: more info.

---

From: W. Scott Howard [Scott.Howard@du.edu]
Sent: Tuesday, March 29, 2011 4:03 PM
Subject: 2796.201130: conversation-starters: more info.

Hi Everyone,

I should note that . . . you are free to choose the form(s) for your conversation-starters.

For example:

- * dialogue
- * essay
- * fiction
- * poetry
- * manifesto
- * fragment
- * letters
- * para-texts
- * aphorisms
- * questions
- * other options . . . ???

In keeping w/ the spirit of our course, I hope you'll enjoy crafting these conversation-starters in reply to the works we're studying. And please remember: these weekly, dialogic assignments are intended as opportunities to connect, create, and converse.

Enjoy.

All best,
Scott