

International Studies and Public Policy Internship Newsletter

10 Tips for a Student's LinkedIn Profile:

1. Write an informative profile headline
2. Pick an appropriate photo
3. Show off your education
4. Develop a professional summary
5. Fill "Skills & Expertise" with keywords (helps recruiters find you!!)
 1. Update your status regularly
 2. Show your connectedness
 3. Collect diverse recommendations
 4. Claim your unique LinkedIn URL
 5. Share your work

For more in-depth information on tips, click here.

Quick reminder from

Kyle Inselman:

Career Advising Appointments, including first-come, first-served Zoom drop-in hours, are available at <http://du.edu/pco> in the Appointments tab. If you don't see a time slot that works for you, first remove any filters and look ahead 2 weeks. If you need assistance, please call (303) 871-2150.

In this issue:

- Linked-in Profile Tips
- Upcoming Events
- Featured Internships
- Spotlight on: Study Abroad Scholarship

UPCOMING EVENTS

Engaging the Political Pendulum and its Impact on International Security

Virtual – Monday 3/1/21 | 7pm MST

How will the Biden administration impact domestic extremism, foreign policy, and the pandemic? Join us for a timely and critical virtual event featuring Karl Rove, Fox News Contributor and Wall Street Journal Columnist, and Paul Begala, Political Analyst, and Commentator, CNN, as they debate critical issues surrounding today's sea change in politics, policy, and national security. Bret Stephens, Pulitzer Prize-winning Columnist, will guide this incisive conversation.

To get free tickets and reserve a spot, click here.

APSIA Webinar: Peace and Security Philanthropy

Virtual – Tuesday 3/2/21 | 11-12pm MST

Please join us for an APSIA Webinar on careers in peace and security philanthropy with Cath Thompson, Program Director, Peace, and Security Funders Group. The Peace and Security Funders Group is a network of foundations and individual philanthropists investing in peace and global security. They maintain an informed, engaged, and collegial community of funders. We are waiting to confirm whether this presentation can be recorded.

For more information and to register, click here.

Virtual Student Foreign Policy Summit

Virtual – Friday 4/23/21 | 1-4pm EST

This summit will virtually connect students from across the country to hear from U.S. foreign policy practitioners. This event is a chance for your students to connect directly with foreign policy experts and ask questions about U.S. foreign policy. Students will also have the chance to ask about careers and internships at the State Department.

If this is something that would interest you reach out to us via email – baints@du.edu.

FEATURED INTERNSHIP

AFPC Research/Programmatic Internship

Washington D.C.

American Foreign Policy Council internships are part-time with the opportunity for flexible hours. Interns are expected to work a minimum of 20 hours per week between 8:30 AM and 6 PM in the AFPC headquarters. Candidates should have a strong interest in foreign policy and national security. Knowledge of Russian, Mandarin, Arabic or Farsi is helpful.

AFPC is now offering fully-funded internships.

To see a list of potential internship responsibilities, programs, publication opportunities, and to apply click here.

Summer Internship Application Deadline: March 15th

TFAS Academic Internship Program

Washington D.C.

If you are looking for a career in foreign policy, intelligence, international development, diplomacy or national security, Washington, DC is the place for you. This TFAS program track is ideal for students who are passionate about global issues and are looking to gain the professional experience needed to break into this competitive field. In addition to gaining real-world experience through internships, students will: Earn 3-6 academic credits in foreign policy and international economics from top-rated George Mason University. Reside in convenient furnished housing in the heart of Washington, D.C. Engage in professional development seminars, guest lectures, site briefings, career exploration discussion groups, and social activities.

For more information and to apply, click here.

Final Summer Application Deadline: March 16th

Policy Internship

Washington D.C.

Interns will work closely with the Friends of the Global Fight staff on both legislative and policy-related tasks. Specifically, the intern may be tasked with conducting issue-related research, drafting fact sheets, and attending Congressional briefings and hearings. The intern may also be asked to work with other departments on advocacy-related projects. Activities may include: conducting prospect research, drafting materials, tracking grants, maintaining donor database, assisting with fundraising events. The intern will participate in meetings with staff and organizational partners, taking advantage of global health-related events in Washington, D.C.

For more information and to apply, click here.

Internship Application Deadline: 3/20/21

spotlight on...

STUDY ABROAD SCHOLARSHIP

Benjamin A. Gilman
International Scholarship

The Gilman Scholarship Application is open!!

Gilman Scholarships helps students of limited financial means study or intern abroad, providing them with skills critical to our national security and economic prosperity. Students studying critical need languages may be eligible to receive an additional award of up to $3,000. This application cycle is for credit-bearing programs abroad or virtual international programs that have a start date from May 1, 2021–April 30, 2022. Specific scholarships are also available for child dependents of active duty service members, students who want to study in Israel, Wales or New Zealand, and students studying Arabic, Portuguese, or French.

For more information, click here.

To apply, click here.

Deadline: Tuesday, March 9, 2021, 11:59pm PST

Official Disclaimer: The BA Program at the Josef Korbel School of International Studies neither endorses, nor recommends any particular program, organization, opportunity, project, or event, and we do not offer any guarantee as to information, products or any otherservices