

International Studies and Public Policy Internship Newsletter

APSIA Career Resources

In addition to DU's career resources website, PCO, we wanted to make you aware of another great career resource. The Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs has great resources for anything and everything related to careers in International Affairs.

Start with their Guide to International Affairs Careers, here you will find a summary of the different kinds of career opportunities an international affairs (or studies) degree opens up for you. From there you can explore different careers by the sector of International Affairs and subject area you would like to work in. Then head over to their Fellowships and Scholarship page to find funding opportunities. Another great resource to check out from APSIA is their Job Openings and Internship page. This page has opportunities specifically curated towards international affairs (or studies) students. The great resources don't stop there, they also have an APSIA Events page! They host both APSIA events and will post other International Affairs related events for you to register for. If you are in the process of applying for jobs/internships, looking for funding, or just want to do some career related research, we highly suggest you check out APSIA.

Do you need internship or job application help?

Kyle Inselman is your Korbel specific career advisor and is a great resource! He has regular appointments & first-come, first-served Zoom drop-in hours, available at <http://du.edu/pco> in the Appointments tab. If you don't see a time slot that works for you, first remove any filters and look ahead 2 weeks. If you need assistance, please call (303) 871-2150.

In this issue:

- APSIA Career Resources
- Upcoming Events
- Featured Internships
- Spotlight on: DU Networking Event

UPCOMING EVENTS

Best Practices in Applying to Graduate School

Virtual | Thursday 4/15/21 | 8 - 9am EST

Join the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA) for an introductory webinar on best practices when applying for graduate school. In this monthly series, APSIA's International Admissions and Operations Manager will answer questions about: Selecting a graduate program, preparing an application, paying for school, career opportunities

For more information and to register, click here.

CIA Information Session

SIE Complex 5025 (In person!!)

Friday, 4/16/21 | 11am - 3pm MST

The CIA is coming to meet you live on campus! The CIA is currently recruiting for internships in 2022, and they are especially interested in freshman and sophomore students. If you would like to attend one of the information sessions, sign up soon as they will fill up quickly. There are 3 sessions offered: 10-11:30am, 12-1:30pm, and 2-3:30 pm. You must have on-campus access to go.

To register, head over to PCO.

Virtual Student Foreign Policy Summit

Virtual - Friday 4/23/21 | 1-4pm EST

This summit will virtually connect students from across the country to hear from U.S. foreign policy practitioners. This event is a chance for students to connect directly with foreign policy experts and ask questions about U.S. foreign policy. Students will also have the chance to ask about careers and internships at the State Department.

To register for the event, click here.

FEATURED INTERNSHIP

China-U.S. Scholars Program (CUSP)

China & Hong Kong

The China-U.S. Scholars Program (CUSP) is an exchange fellowship program for China, Hong Kong SAR (China) and U.S. scholars and students in the arts, humanities and social sciences to teach, study or conduct research abroad in China, Hong Kong SAR (China) or the US in 2021-2022. The program will award 48 grants to selected faculty and students. The distribution of grants is anticipated to be roughly equal among China and Hong Kong SAR (China) students and scholars traveling to the US, and US students and scholars traveling to China and Hong Kong SAR (China). The program is funded by Carnegie Corporation of New York*, Ford Foundation, Harvard-Yenching Institute, Henry Luce Foundation and Rockefeller Brothers Fund.

For more information and to apply, click here.

Application deadline: April 15, 2021 by 11:59pm EST

International Communication and Marketing Internship with Stipend

Remote

APSIA is looking for its remote summer intern! Interns help APSIA create website, social media, print, and other content to promote its work to relevant audiences around the world. Interns gain practical experience in multicultural, multinational marketing, a portfolio of projects tailored to a variety of international audiences, strong connections to top schools of international affairs, experience in outreach, analysis, and project management, insights into educational and career trends that will help shape their career, and more. $500 stipend per semester.

For more information and to apply, click here.

Application Deadline: April 16, 2021

Paid Internship with the Reagan-Fascell Democracy Fellows Program

Washington D.C.

The Reagan-Fascell Democracy Fellows Program is seeking a motivated individual to serve as a paid intern for Summer 2021. This paid internship provides professional development opportunities in the area of international exchange, with a focus on the program's website and social media presence, support for program publications and competition, and database management. The paid intern will interact with Reagan-Fascell Democracy Fellows in residence at the International Forum for Democratic Studies, the research and publications arm of the NED, and participate in the collegial environment of the Forum, including fellows' presentations and other NED events.

For more information and to apply, click here.

Application Deadline: open until filled

CONNECTING DU NETWORKING EVENT

Business Careers for Non-Business Majors

Have you ever wondered how the business world and international studies might intersect? Well the DU business department is ready to help you explore how your career aspiration may merge with the business world.

Every industry, every employer is a business. However, some non-business majors/programs don't always see a path for themselves in the 'business world.' Start building your professional network with DU Alumni at a fun and engaging event. A panel of experts will be followed by rotating breakout rooms for small group discussion/Q&A between our alumni and employer guests and participants. Organizations represented include: International Development Services, DHR International, Emergent, Deloitte, Lynx Global Intelligence & Bank of Montreal.

For more information and to register, click here.

List of participating alumni and employers:

- Dr. Nicolas Benedict (BA '93, PhD '01) | International Development Services, Inc. | Senior Business Consultant
- Matt Comand (MA '13) | Emergent | Director of Performance
- Connor Fallen (BA '17) | DHR International | Senior Associate
- Kay Fillingham (BA, MA '07) | Bank of Montreal (BMO) | Senior Product Manager, Specialty Markets
- Ron Friedman | Farmers Brothers Coffee | Chief Human Resource Officer
- Katie Hughes (MA '19) | Deloitte | GPS Consultant
- John Milton (MA '20) | Lynx Global Intelligence | Global Customer Success Manager

Event Schedule:

5:00-5:30- Welcome/Panel Discussion & Q&A

5:30-6:25- Rotating Breakout Rooms with Alumni & Employers

6:25-6:30- Closing