YOUR GSSW ACADEMIC AFFAIRS TEAM

Kati Olivares - Program Coordinator

Support to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and the Associate Dean for Doctoral Education

kati.olivares@du.edu - 303-871-2650 - Craig Hall Room 378

See me about: PhD student support, adjunct faculty support, faculty support, general Academic Affairs inquiries.

Leslie Hasche, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

Provides oversight and ensures accreditation standards for the quality of your MSW Education. Supports integration and innovation across MSW Program (Denver Campus MSW@Denver, Online, Four Corners MSW in Durango, & Western Colorado in Glenwood Springs). Implements policies, including facilitating and making decisions regarding faculty & student concerns involving GSSW Academic & Professional Standards of Performance.

Stephanie George, Associate Professor of the Practice, Director of MSW@Denver Program

Bringing MSW students together on a virtual platform while remaining in their home communities allows for incredible engagement with a national perspective within the classroom. I am passionate about growing social work practice in underserved communities areas to all 50 states.

Kate Ross, Associate Professor of the Practice, Director of Denver Campus MSW Program

Leads your Denver Campus MSW Program. Supports students & faculty within your program. Consults and facilitates communications and engages in resolutions of concerns. Identifies opportunities, community collaborations, and program improvements.

Brian Gonzales, Clinical Assistant Professor, Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs

Integration of self, theory and practice creates the framework from which I support students in their learning and ongoing development. I work to advance the inherent potential in who we are as social workers and who we serve. Point of contact for Adjunct Faculty.

Janelle Doughty, Associate Professor of the Practice of Social Work, Four Corners Program Director

I'm very excited about the opportunity to lead the Four Corners Master of Social Work (MSW) program. I believe it is vitally important to expose graduate students to issues of Native American culture, tribal politics, and sovereignty.

Rachel Forbes, Associate Professor of the Practice of Social Work, Western Colorado MSW Program Director

I am proud to represent social work in Western Colorado. Issues of social and environmental justice in our rural and mountain communities are important. It's exciting to bring social work to this part of the state as we build the local workforce.
