Fellowship Opportunity

THE HERBERT
SCOVILLE JR.
PEACE FELLOWSHIP

Who Can Apply:

The Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship invites recent college and graduate school alumni to apply for six to nine month fellowships in Washington, DC focusing on arms control, peace, and international security issues. Founded in 1987 to develop and train the next generation of leaders on a range of peace and security issues, the program has awarded 198 fellowships to date.

What the Fellowship Entails:

The Scoville Fellowship is a chance to spend six to nine months working in Washington, DC with one of more than two dozen participating think tanks and advocacy groups on a range of international peace and security issues including nuclear arms control and nonproliferation, conflict resolution, diplomacy, peacebuilding, and emerging technology threats. Scoville Fellows work alongside senior-level staff members at our host institutions and have the opportunity to conduct research, write, and do public education and advocacy.

Fellowship Benefits:

Benefits include a salary, additional funds to cover health insurance, travel costs to DC, a modest stipend for professional development, mentoring from a board member and former fellow, and an entree into an increasingly influential alumni network.

Fellowship Deadline:

- Fall 2021 Fellowship: January 19, 2021 (begin between July 15 and October 1, 2021)
- Spring 2022 Fellowship: October 1, 2021 (begin between January 15 and April 1, 2022)

Program Opportunity

Who Can Apply:

Current undergraduates and recent graduates (winter 2020 or later). International students are eligible to apply. Previous Summer Honors Program participants are not eligible.

What the Program Entails:

The American Enterprise Institute's Summer Honors Program is an intensive, fully-funded educational and professional development opportunity in Washington, DC, for top undergraduate students. The program gathers students from diverse ideological backgrounds for substantive dialogue and debate about the most pressing issues facing the country and world. The core feature of the program is discussion-based seminars that offer participants forums to delve deeply into policy areas of their choice. Outside of the seminars, students participate in policy briefings with distinguished guests, high-level networking opportunities, and site visits in Washington.

Program Benefits:

This is a fully-funded program. Participants will receive: reimbursement for travel to DC, housing, a stipend, and lunch and dinner on most class days.

Program Deadline:

Early Decision Deadline: Monday, January 4, 2021

Regular Decision Deadline: Monday, March 1, 2021

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. We encourage interested applicants to apply early. Early Decision applicants will receive an update on the status of their application by February 5. Final decisions for the program will be made by April 9 at the latest.

Scholarship Opportunity

Who Can Apply:

U.S. citizen's planning to study a foreign language in an eligible world region, matriculated in an undergraduate or graduate degree program at an accredited U.S. institution or applying to graduate school.

What the Scholarship Entails:

The Boren Awards fund the intensive study of language and culture abroad by U.S. undergraduate or graduate students. All eligible applicants have the option to either apply for a Regional Flagship Language Initiative or select/design their own study program. Proposed programs of two or more semesters are strongly encouraged. Boren Scholars should seek study abroad programs that have a serious language component. Although such programs may include some coursework, unpaid internships, or volunteer opportunities conducted in English, the strongest applicants will make every effort to immerse themselves in language study. Language study should comprise the majority of overseas coursework. Beyond the classroom, language immersion may take place in university housing with local students, in homestays with local families, or through research or volunteering conducted in the local language.

Scholarship Benefits:

8-11 weeks abroad: $8,000 for a summer program (STEM majors only)

12-24 weeks abroad: $12,500

25-52 weeks abroad: $25,000

Scholarship Deadline:

Undergraduate: February 3, 2021

Graduate: January 27, 2021
