The spiritual life is incomplete without charity—the sharing of one’s material wealth with others.

Death is only a shedding of the body—a new incarnation moves on to a new incarnation.

Spiritual growth comes more through spiritual practices than through instruction.

These sections are used to tabulate the results for Part One and Part Two of the Spiritual Identity Test—eighty seven statements in all. Mark the appropriate boxes on your response sheet.

Second, look at the totals you have written in each of the four boxes. Two of these totals determine the first important element of your Spiritual Type.
to answer. This letter represents, in the very broadest of terms, one of those questions in the chart you are filling out. Write down what your belief is in a positive and encouraging manner.

The answer to the spiritual tradition that most closely matches your beliefs was Letter B. Your results are:
The Pentecostal-Rational.

To discover your results, take the test and fill in the chart. Your results will be determined by the box you check.

Step 2

Look at the last three statements of Part Two and fill in the charts. Then, look at the first three statements of Part Two and fill in the charts. Repeat the process until all statements have been filled in.

Step 3

Next, look at the totals you have written in each of the seven boxes.

The highest total determines your results.

Step 4

Write down just like you did in tabulating Part One.

For each of the seven sections, and other those totals in the boxes, put into seven vertical sections. Predict the total number of Cs and P's. Your responses to the six-these statements of Part Two are identified.

Step 5

Tabulate your results for Part Two: Discover Your Tradition.

Within this line, find the truth. The answer is found in your understanding of the spiritual traditions that you checked off on the chart. They are either religious, spiritual, or both. They are faith communities that believe in Jesus. They are very different, and they are very different from each other. They often disagree on how to interpret the Bible, but they all believe in the same God. They are united in their love for Jesus, and they are united in their desire to be like Jesus.
