

Join us for two days of horses, art, conversation and connection...

Horses and Healing

Nature Based Equine-Assisted Photography Therapy Workshop

August 5-6, 2017 in Black Forest, CO

Are you curious about how horses can help humans?

Do you want to have profound experiences and conversations in a calming and inspiring setting?

Whether you want to learn about equine-assisted work for your professional practice, or simply curious about what is it like, your own experience is at the core of it all.

Workshop fee: $160

This retreat-style workshop is fun, rewarding, and can even be life changing! Horses can help guide you to a better understanding of yourself, to a place where you can walk through what is blocking you with greater ease. Art has a similar power, especially when combined with nature, conversation and connection.

The workshop starts at 3 pm on Saturday, August 5th and ends at 5 pm on Sunday, August 6th. Workshop cost is $160, which includes dinner on Saturday, and breakfast and lunch on Sunday, in addition to materials.

Workshop Location

The Holistic Therapeutic Equine Center (HTEC), a non-profit center for healing, is located on Split Pine Ranch, a family-owned, horse facility located in Black Forest, Colorado. The original homestead on 41 acres has been a "work in progress" over the past 17 years and is a dream come true. This "holistic haven" offers a safe, loving, tranquil environment for healing.

Who will you meet?

Nina Fuller, MA, LPCc, has a Masters in Counseling Psychology with a concentration in Equine Assisted Mental Health. Her five equines (horse, pony, donkey, mule and mini) help with her equine-assisted practice at Lily Brook Farm in Maine. A professional photographer for over thirty years Nina brings her creativity to the forefront of her work combining many aspects of equine therapy with the creative arts.

Inger Lanese, MA, LPC, graduated with a Masters in Counseling Psychology and concentration in Equine Assisted Mental Health. She has been providing equine work through her LLC, ManeStream Services, since 2008. Inger brings a holistic and soulful approach to her practice in Michigan.

Nina Ekholm Fry, MSSc., CCPT, is the Director of Equine Programs at the Institute for Human-Animal Connection at University of Denver. She is active in the equine-assisted field nationally and internationally and has 12 years experience in clinical work and EAMH. In addition to client work, where she focuses on trauma treatment through a lens of interpersonal neurobiology, Nina is dedicated to teaching, to equine behavior and welfare, and to mind-body integration.

Registration Information

To keep this workshop small and personal we need committed participants. Full payment is required at the time of registration to hold your spot. In the event you need to cancel for any reason, and we are able to fill your spot before the workshop starts, you will receive a full refund. If we are not able to fill your spot, $100 of the workshop fee is non-refundable. Thank you for your understanding.

Registration

Register by emailing nina.ekholm-fry@du.edu the following information:

Name
Address
Phone Number
Dietary Needs

Workshop fee: $160 - includes one dinner, breakfast and lunch.

Payment

The following payment options are available:

Send $160 electronically through:

Paypal ninafuller@roadrunner.com
Venmo ninafuller@roadrunner.com

Mail Check, Cashier's Check or Money Order of $160 to:

Nina Fuller
335 Little Falls Road
Hollis Center, ME 04042

Contact

For more information about the workshop, please contact Nina Ekholm Fry at (928) 830-5727, nina.ekholm-fry@du.edu