

Research & Applied Projects for Academic Year 2018-2019

portfolio.du.edu/ThomasPitts

Robyn
Dr. Thomas Pitts, PhD
University of North
Carolina at Greensboro
Evaluation & Mixed Methods

Methodological Research Areas

1. How Research/Evaluative Information Affects People & Situations
 - Evaluation Use & Influence
 - Collaborative & Culturally Responsive Approaches to Evaluation
2. A Learner-Centered Teaching of Evaluation
 - Academic & Professional Training Pathways
 - Professionalization of the Evaluation Field

Substantive Areas of Expertise

1. Pedagogy & Instruction
2. Scientific Literacy, Secondary Science Education & Classroom Assessment
3. Leveraging Higher Education Assessment and Accreditation for Organizational Learning by Teachers & Students

Service Learning Projects

Ongoing collaboration to offer course-embedded partnerships

Campus Compact of the Mountain West

3-year eval for outcomes and future model replication

Urban Teaching Fellows

Research: QED testing focused competency coaching model

Evaluation: MM eval to build evidence for DPS teacher transition strategy

Evaluation Use/Influence & CRA

Systematic Review of Evaluation Use & Influence within Culturally Responsive Approaches to Evaluation

Teaching Evaluation

Phenomenological Analysis of Instructor Perceptions of Teaching Evaluation in Light of Professionalization & Competency Frameworks

ER begets RoE

Each evaluation research project has a 2+ additional RoE research questions

Evaluation Research

Research on Evaluation