

Reading List for the Ph.D. Comprehensive Examinations Form

At the beginning of the third year of study all Ph.D. students will take a written comprehensive exam covering three (out of four) fields of study: 1) an author or major figure; 2) a genre; 3) a period; and 4) either a second period or a special topic.

The three choices must be approved by examiners and the Graduate Committee.

Student Name:

Program Concentration:

Reading List Must Be Attached

Exam 1 (Field & Focus):

Examiner A (Name & Signature)

Examiner B (Name & Signature)

Exam 2 (Field & Focus):

Examiner A (Name & Signature)

Examiner B (Name & Signature)

Exam 3 (Field & Focus):

Examiner A (Name & Signature)

Examiner B (Name & Signature)