New This Week

Charleston Massacre Open Forum

Saturday June 27 | 12 pm - 1:20 pm | Chambers Center Room 260

Dear CWC Students, Staff, and Faculty,

The hate-filled massacre of nine people last week at an evening prayer meeting at Emmanuel AME Church in Charleston, South Carolina has left that community, and communities across the country, reeling. Many folks at CWC and in the wider DU campus have been looking for an opportunity to process their feelings about this horrific event.

Associate Dean Arthur Jones has been discussing this with Dean Olson, the Chancellor, and the staff at the Center for Multicultural Excellence, and has organized an opportunity this week for anyone in the CWC community who would like a safe place to share feelings about what happened in Charleston. Everyone from the CWC community is invited to take part in the discussion facilitated by the Associate Dean.

Real community conversations about making tangible changes to help women and girls in Colorado reach their full potential. Join The Women's Foundation of Colorado and a featured panel of experts to get real about gender bias in STEM and how it affects the preparation, recruitment, and retention of women in STEM fields. This event is open to the public, and there is no cost to attend. Light refreshments will be served. For more information, see the event flyer. RSVP to Shayna Braunstein at EC@wfco.org by July 2, 2015.
