Building Future Leaders

The Cargill Global Scholars Program (CGSP) is a distinctive, two-year scholarship program that provides financial support to undergraduate students in Brazil, China, India, Indonesia, Russia, and the United States. The CGSP offers leadership development opportunities through seminars, networking events and a one-on-one mentoring program facilitated by Cargill volunteers globally, and an alumni network that will help you keep connected with past, current, and future scholars.

The students selected are those who demonstrate exemplary academic achievement and leadership potential and study in a field relevant to Cargill's world of food, agriculture and risk management. We believe these students will become leaders in industries and fields that may have an impact on Cargill's businesses in the future.

FEATURED INTERNSHIPS

Global Security Intern- Undergraduate

Abt Associates seeks bright, talented, and intellectually curious students to add to their talent pipeline. As a paid intern in the Global Security Office, you will have the opportunity to gain hands-on industry experience while being exposed to challenging projects and learning from some of the top experts in the field. Interns will be exposed to a depth and breadth of expertise and knowledge through events and programs throughout the summer. Our summer internship program consists of a robust and structured curriculum that encompasses professional development opportunities, and a mentorship program. At this time, we anticipate our internships will be remote, and candidates can be located anywhere in the United States.

The Summer Internship Program at Abt Associates is 10 weeks, beginning June 6, 2022, through August 12, 2022. Interns must be able to work full-time (40 hours per week) for the duration of the program.
