$15—Museum admission only
$20—Museum + Presentation

You are invited to a special OLLI at DU event at the Wings Over the Rockies Museum (WOTR), Colorado's official Air & Space museum. The museum is located on the former Lowry Air Force Base in Denver and preserves the history of Lowry AFB's operations from 1938 to 1994 in its collections, archives, and research library. Features of the museum's collection include the USAF's B-1A Lancer and B-52 Stratofortress bombers and many other military and general aviation aircraft.

OLLI members will have an opportunity to tour the museum and attend a special presentation by Retired Major General John Barry, President and CEO of the museum entitled "When the Right Stuff Goes Wrong" which will focus on the Space Shuttle Columbia accident. In his presentation, he will speak first-hand about the accident, his involvement with the investigation, and lessons that can be learned from this mishap. (Note: the capacity of the amphitheater is 45).

10:00 am	Doors open
10:30-11:30	Presentation for OLLI at DU members by Retired Major General John Barry
11:30-1:00	Lunch at Lowry Beer Garden (next door to the museum) - on your own
1:00-5:00	Visit Museum (re-entry permitted)

About John L. Barry

Retired Major General John L. Barry was in the Air Force for over 30 years as a combat veteran, fighter pilot/USAF "Top Gun" graduate and Military Assistant to the Secretary of Defense. He retired in 2004, having served his last tour on active duty as Board Member and Executive Director for the Space Shuttle Columbia Accident Investigation.

From 2006-2013, Barry served as superintendent of Aurora Public Schools, the sixth largest district in Colorado. In 2014, he was then named Chief Executive Officer for Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Denver. Currently, Barry holds the position as President & CEO at Wings Over the Rockies Air & Space Museum.
