Featured Internships

Programs and Development Intern

Colorado Haiti Project - Denver (remote)

Deadline: Rolling

Through long-term relationships and deep commitment to our Haitian partners, the Colorado Haiti Project supports locally-led initiatives in rural Haiti. Responsibilities and tasks may include a combination of: research, communications, grant-writing, grant-prospecting, operations, data management, M & E, and strategic planning. Due to the fact that we currently have a variety of interns interested or involved, we aim to create an experience that is specific to our needs while also leveraging specific interests, talents, and assets of the candidate. Enthusiasm and openness for longer-term commitment will allow CHP to invest more time, training, and attention to selected candidate. To apply, please send cover letter and resume to Wynn Walent, wwalent@coloradohaitiproject.org.

Leadership Council Development Intern

Churches for Middle East Peace - Washington DC

Deadline: Rolling

Highly motivated individuals are encouraged to apply for CMEP's Leadership Council Internship Program. Through this unique program, interns will gain hands-on experience and mentorship in development and fundraising in the context of a Christian-based nonprofit working for peace and justice in Israel/Palestine and the broader Middle East. The Development intern supports the Development Director, including conducting prospect research, maintaining our donor database and producing data reports, meeting project-based needs as they arise, and offering day-to-day administrative support. The intern will also assist with event planning from start to finish. The Development intern works 15-20 hours per week with our CMEP staff and volunteer team. Spotlight on...

Council on Foreign Relations

Founded in 1921, the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is a leading nonprofit membership organization, research center, and publisher, with headquarters in New York, an office in Washington, DC, and programs nationwide. It is dedicated to increasing America's understanding of the world and contributing ideas to U.S. foreign policy. CFR's 5,000+ members are leaders in international affairs and foreign policy. CFR also publishes Foreign Affairs, the preeminent magazine on global issues, and provides up-to-date information about the world and U.S. foreign policy on its award-winning website, CFR.org.

Foreign Affairs, Advertising

The Foreign Affairs Advertising team has a strong focus on marketing the magazine to educators, students, foreign policy associations and other non-profit organizations. Foreign Affairs produces academic resources such as Foreign Affairs Books and Custom Textbooks. These titles are used by professors in International Relations, Foreign Policy, and International Political Economy from universities and colleges in the U.S. and Canada. The internship offers an exciting opportunity to learn about marketing, outreach, and academic publishing at the preeminent journal of international affairs. For more information, visit the job listing.

International Economics, History

The intern will work with a research associate in the studies department, assisting a senior fellow with research, editing, and administrative tasks. The intern will gain firsthand experience with the tools scholars use to analyze economic policy and historical questions. The intern will conduct research and identify promising materials, reading, and preparing summaries for the fellow's book project on Henry A. Wallace; track and organize research materials, carry out fact-checking and other tasks related to project; assist in logistical support for meetings, including but not limited to preparing distribution materials, helping with guest check-in and guiding visitors during roundtables and other departmental events, under the supervisor's direct supervision; and attending general Council meetings and other programs on foreign policy issues, as time permits. For more information, visit the job listing.

Middle East History and Geopolitics

The Council has a internship available in the Studies Department. The intern will report to a fellow in the studies department and will assist the fellow with research, writing, and editing. The intern will gain firsthand experience in working in the think tank community, analyzing geopolitical trends in the Middle East, as well as gaining knowledge and understanding of the Middle East politics and U.S. foreign policy in the region. The intern will conduct research as requested by the research associate and/or fellow on a variety of topics; edit and revise fellow's book-length manuscript on the history of the Middle East Peace process; track daily news reports that are relevant for the department; and assist in logistical support for meetings.
