COLORADO UNIVERSITIES Partnered Career and Internship Fair

November 12, 2020

JKSIS - Alfa Fellowship Program Information Session

Thursday, November 12, 2020

1pm - 2pm MST

The Alfa Fellowship Program is a distinguished international initiative that each year offers up to 18 accomplished young Americans, Britons, and Germans the opportunity to complete a high-level professional development program in Russia. Over the course of the program, fellows complete work placements at leading institutions, attend professional seminars, and receive intensive language training. The fellowship provides a monthly stipend, accommodation, insurance, all program-related travel costs, language training in Russia, and private tutoring in the U.S., U.K., or Germany. The Alfa Fellowship Program was founded in 2004 with the aim of fostering a community of emerging leaders who have first-hand experience in the business, public policy, and cultural environments of Russia and the region. The Key goals of the Alfa Fellowship Program are to expand networks of American, British, German, and Russian professionals, develop greater intercultural understanding, and advance knowledge of Russian affairs in the West.

Colorado Universities Partnered Virtual Career and Internship Fair

Thursday, November 12, 2020

11am - 4pm MST

This is a collaborative event hosted by 13 Colorado universities in an effort to provide our Colorado students and alums with career and internship opportunities across the state, nation, and globe. During this event, you will be able to video chat 1-on-1 with employers that are looking for talented and skilled future team members like YOU! Companies will also be hosting group sessions where you can jump on an info session-type video call with some of your peers to learn more about company culture and the types of roles they are looking at hiring.

Whatever your personal preference is, there's an option for you during this virtual fair!

The Fund for American Students (TFAS)

Washington DC (and Virtual)

TFAS Offers multiple different internships throughout the year!

Fall + Spring Academic Internship Programs in Washington, DC: Through the Capital Semester program, TFAS brings students from across the U.S. and world to Washington for 15 weeks. Students will earn 12 credits from George Mason University, be placed in an internship within their fields of interest, and live in furnished apartments in the Capitol Hill neighborhood, just blocks from the Library of Congress and U.S. Capitol. The fall semester focuses public policy and international affairs, while the spring semester's theme is Leadership and the American Presidency. The spring program is sponsored in conjunction with the Ronald Reagan Institute.

Spring 2021 Deadline: November 16

Summer Academic Internship Program in Washington, DC: The summer program provides students from across the U.S. and abroad the opportunity to spend 8 weeks earning 3-9 credits from George Mason University, complete an internship placement in their field of interest, and live on George Washington University's campus – located just a few blocks from the State Department and White House. Our goal is to provide a real-world professional and academic experience for college students to help prepare them for responsible leadership in the future. Five program tracks are offered during the summer: Public Policy and Economics, International Affairs, Journalism and Communications, Business and Government Relations, and Leadership and the American Presidency.

Summer 2021 Deadline: December 8

Internship at Geneva International Centre for Justice

Geneva, Switzerland

Geneva International Centre for Justice (GICJ) is an independent, non-profit, international non-governmental organization based in Geneva, dedicated to the promotion and reinforcement of commitments to the principles and norms of human rights.

GICJ is seeking experienced and highly motivated interns to help in implementing its programmes and activities in the fields of international law, international human rights law, journalism, social media, administration and fund-raising. Through the internship programme, GICJ contributes to the promotion of human rights and international law and provides interns with opportunities to deepen their knowledge with valuable hands-on experience and training. Although unpaid, the internship is an opportunity for those interested in learning more in the field of international law, international human rights and international humanitarian law, as well as multilateral diplomacy, to gain insight, knowledge, and professional experience.
