AWARDS AND HONORS

Elizabeth Hurlock Beckman Award (received 2019): This award is given to current or former academic faculty members who have inspired their former students to “create an organization which has demonstrably conferred a benefit on the community at large.” This honor was awarded to Scott Stanley, Ph.D. based on his work with Galena Rhoades, Ph.D. while she was a graduate student at the University of Denver. The honor is attributable not only to Dr. Stanley's work with Dr. Rhoades, but also to her work at the University of Denver in developing MotherWise, a program for disadvantaged, expectant mothers in the Denver area. Excellence in Research on Military and Veteran Families Award (2019): The Military Family Research Institute (MFRI) at Purdue University has granted the 2019 Excellence in Research on Military and Veteran Families award to CU Denver and University of Denver investigators Elizabeth Allen, Kayla Knopp, Galena Rhoades, Scott Stanley, and Howard Markman for their paper entitled "Between- and Within-Subject Associations of PTSD Symptom Clusters and Marital Functioning in Military Couples." This study was selected as the winner of the award by an independent panel of accomplished scholars who reviewed hundreds of papers regarding military and veteran families published in 2018. The study, supported by a grant from NICHD, is part of a longitudinal investigation of the emotional and relationship functioning of military couples.

Title: Long Term Effects of Premarital Intervention
Dates: Spring 2007 - Spring 2012 (we received notice of five more years of funding in September, 2006. New funding will be from NICHD)

This is a long-term, random assignment, effectiveness study of preventive premarital education conducted within religious organizations comparing couples who receive traditional forms of premarital education with those receiving a research based, best practices curriculum. The study features comprehensive measurement (using self-report and objective measurement) of couples at yearly intervals, with the data set being useful for addressing numerous questions about couple development in the transition to marriage and into the early stages of marriage.
