Laptop Loan Application

Students who are facing financial difficulty in acquiring a laptop for academic use may apply for the Laptop Loan Program, a free-of-charge service for students who qualify. Laptops are available on a quarterly basis or for an entire academic year. The laptops meet the University's specifications, and come with applications such as Microsoft Office, anti-virus software, and Internet connectivity. Specialized software required as part of a course is the responsibility of the student.

Criteria:

- The student must be a degree-seeking student at Colorado Women's College
- The student must be continuously enrolled during the term of the laptop loan
- The student must have demonstrated financial need that is not being met by some other means.

Means of Selection:

Students who meet the above criteria will be awarded laptops on a first-come, first-served basis. If there are more eligible applicants than machines available, students not awarded laptops will be put on a waiting list and may receive a laptop should machines become available later in the year.
