INTS 3708: INTERTERM SUMMER MADNESS STRIKES KORBEL

- June Interterm in Brazil: Ola, minha amiga! Based in scenic Rio de Janeiro, this course will examine the historical evolution of Brazilian development, offering students an opportunity to study dialectics of poverty, plenty, democracy, and dictatorship, from the colonial period to the present day. With an election coming this later this year, this course offers a unique opportunity for students to personal engage with issues of political stability and economic inequality.
- August Interterm in Kenya: Jambo! Habari gani? Led by Korbel professors Archer and Uttaro, this inter-term program will spend two weeks exploring the Tsavo region of south-eastern Kenya. Students will work with a variety of conservation projects, including the Network for Animal Welfare, utilizing the information they get from classroom instruction directly in the field.
- June Interterm in Japan: Konnichi wa! This course, led by Prof. Abdrabou, analyses Japanese political culture within its historical context, highlighting the question of how the culture of Japan interacted with other dynamic forces to shape modern Japanese politics at home and abroad.

Professors Archer and Uttaro: The infamous
"Man-Eaters of Tsavo"

Barton Institute for Philanthropy & Social Enterprise—Social Enterprise Fellowship (Paid)

Deadline: May 3, 2018

Throughout DU, students like you are seeking to connect with one another across disciplines, and to apply their skills and talents to problems in the real world. From engineering and marketing, to law and social work...you bring your unique lens to this work – and you recognize that no matter where your career takes you, you'll find ways to contribute to your community.

Metro Denver has become a hotbed of entrepreneurial energy. Hundreds of non and for profit entities are testing new ways to address social needs through the application of business strategies – and they seek trained partners who can help them make their visions reality. The QF Social Enterprise Fellowship connects the passion of DU students with the enterprising spirit so vibrantly alive in the Metro Denver region. What's the vision? The QF Social Enterprise Fellowship brings together DU graduate students across disciplines to take action on social and economic problems through social enterprise, with a focus on improving the lives of people facing challenges in Metro Denver communities.
