

BREAKING

International Studies + PPOL Internship Newsletter

March 8, 2018

Interested in climate change, sustainable development, and resource?

In recognition of the urgency of climate change and the entrepreneurial spirit of young leaders across the Americas, the Biennial of the Americas and the Nature Conservancy launched the Youth Congress for Sustainable Americas during the 2017 Biennial of the Americas Festival. We recognize the need to empower young advocates with the resources and networks to make real and lasting progress to address climate change.

We are pleased to announce the second Youth Congress for Sustainable Americas conference will be held in Mexico City, April 6-8th. The April Youth Congress meeting in Mexico City will be grounded in a shared sense of urgency to address the real and potentially catastrophic effects of climate change. Delegates will articulate a cohesive vision for what the Youth Congress aspires to achieve and define tangible action steps towards realizing that vision.

Click here to apply or find more information

TO REGISTER
EMAIL THE INSTRUCTOR AT
KYLE.INSELMAN@DU.EDU
FOR AN OVERRIDE

LDRS 2912 CAREERS & LEADERSHIP II

OPEN TO ALL UNDERGRADS WITH AN INTERNSHIP
OR JOB STARTING IN SUMMER 2018

Spring 2018
2 credits
Thursdays
2:00-4:00

Develop skills and strategies to be successful in the workplace for your internship or job. Learn about organizational culture, professionalism, and inclusive excellence at work. Build self-efficacy, emotional intelligence, and a plan of action to succeed this summer.

UNIVERSITY of DENVER
CAREER & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

In this issue:

- Announcements!
- Upcoming Events @ DU
- #PrestigeWorldwide
- Spotlight on Local Opportunities

OPM: Writing Your Federal Resume Virtual Training Session

Monday, March 12, 2018

4pm—5:30pm

Online

Have you been thinking about applying for employment with the Federal Government? Would you like guidance from experts on how to get a Federal job?

Join the staff of the Recruitment Policy and Outreach (RPO) division of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), for a series of in-depth briefings designed to assist those seeking jobs with the Federal Government.

The sessions are open to anyone who wants to learn more about the Federal hiring process; however, registration for each event will be limited to 1500 attendees. There are no costs for these sessions and, because they are virtual (online), you can participate from any location provided you have an Internet connection.

Click here for more information and/or to register

Bender Career Fair for People with Disabilities

Wednesday, March 14, 2018

7:30am—4pm

Online

Are you a person with disability looking for a career opportunity or internship?

This virtual career fair is free for students and alumni with disabilities to attend. Competitive opportunities for every level of candidate, from experienced professionals, recent college graduates and college students with disabilities, to meet online with employers across the nation including Epic, JPMorgan Chase, Microsoft, Thomson Reuters, US Department of Justice, US Secret Service, & More!

Click here to register or find more information

Alumni Career Studio

Tuesday, March 20, 2018

4pm—7pm

Leo Block Alumni Center

Looking for help with your application materials in real-time?

The Alumni Career Studio is open for business! Join professional career advisors in an informal environment to receive feedback on your resume, cover letter or LinkedIn profile that you can immediately apply. Staff will be available as participants sit and work on their materials. They can also talk you through other career questions including job search, interview preparation or salary negotiation. Please bring any materials you'd like to have reviewed. Feel free to bring your computer and work on them after receiving feedback.

Upcoming Events @ DU

Stimson Center South Asia Program Research Internship Summer 2018

Deadline: March 15, 2018

The South Asia Program at the Stimson Center offers fall, summer, and spring internships to highly motivated and talented undergraduate and graduate students. Interns work on research related to security and politics in India and Pakistan, including: strategic culture, inter-state rivalry, deterrence challenges, crisis dynamics, great power competition, and patterns of political violence. Depending on skill sets and interests, interns are assigned to ongoing program research projects and have an opportunity to lead a subset of a project. They may also work as an assistant editor for the program's online policy platform, South Asian Voices, featuring short-form analysis from South Asian scholars.

Click here to apply or find more info

Uganda Village Project—2018 Summer Internship

Deadline: March 24, 2018

The Uganda Village Project (UVP) is a not-for-profit, non-governmental organization specializing in international public health, working with the people of Iganga to promote public health and sustainable development in the rural communities of Iganga.

We are currently accepting applications for our Summer 2018 internship program. Interns spend 8-9 weeks living and working in a village in rural Iganga District, Uganda, gaining experience in public health, community education, and international development. Interns will have the opportunity to participate in a variety of activities in several focus areas, including water, sanitation, HIV/AIDS, nutrition, malaria, and reproductive health. Click here to apply or find more information

Global Youth Connect—Thailand Summer 2018 Internship

Deadline: March 10, 2018 (Early Registration)

Southeast Asia has for some time been in the focus of the unfortunate events of human rights violations, including persecution of people, inter-religious conflicts and corruption scandals. Nevertheless, Thailand as a tourist country with a Buddhist precept fosters the tradition of peaceful settlement of conflict and learning about peace and nonviolent methods of resolution of inner-state and inter-state frictions. GYC Summer 2018 in Thailand explores peaceful conflict resolution techniques within the unique context of SE Asia.

On successful completion of this study visit, students should be able to:

- Articulate common definitions of Human Rights, Peace Education and Conflict Resolution
- Explain important peace achievements and challenges in South-East Asia, the U.S., Bosnia and Herzegovina, United Kingdom, and other nations.
- Employ methodologies and develop skills to research, raise awareness and to promote and protect human rights and peacebuilding education, both together and individually, and consider culturally appropriate approaches.

Click here to apply or find more information

Featured Global Opportunities

Spotlight on...

Local Opportunities

Education First—Educational Tour Consultant, Summer 2018

Deadline: Open Until Filled

We're currently accepting applications for our June 2018 cohort for the EF Educational Tours Sales Development Program. As an Educational Tour Consultant based in Denver, you'll own your own business over a geographic territory in the United States. Your mission? To inspire educators to show their students the world, serving as their partner to evolve their first international tour into an established travel program.

Both at EF and in this role, sales is the central hub from which everything flows. You'll work at its intersection with marketing, customer retention, operations, and product innovation, to name a few. To achieve success, you'll create your territory's roadmap to sustainable growth, resolve business challenges, and work with a diverse set of colleagues from across the world that will result in a beautiful customer experience.

Visit here to find more information and apply

Unite America—Spring/Summer Intern 2018

Deadline: March 29, 2018

Unite America is a Denver-based national political organization that aims to bridge the growing partisan divide in government by strategically electing common-sense, independent candidates to office.

Our spring associate program will run from February through May and our summer programs will run from May to September. We are currently looking to fill multiple open internship positions within our organization, both full and part-time.

To find out more, learn about the open positions, and apply, please visit this link. To apply, please send a resume and cover letter with the subject line of the role you are applying for to jobs@uniteamerica.org.

Official Disclaimer: In addition to “going hard in the paint”, the BA Program at the Josef Korbel School of International Studies neither endorses, nor recommends any particular program, organization, opportunity, project, or event, and we do not offer any guarantee as to information, products or any other services. We recommend that individuals do independent research regarding the opportunities/events detailed herein.