A Speaker Series on Principle-Based Ethical Leadership

This new annual speaker series is built around the Daniels Fund principles of integrity, trust, accountability, transparency, fairness, respect, rule of law, and viability. It is part of our continuing work to honor the legacy of Bill Daniels* — to both deepen and broaden discussions around ethics and integrity, and to explore what it truly means to be a principle-based ethical leader.

Keynote Speaker

Corey Ciocchetti

Chairman of the Business Ethics and Legal Studies Department, Daniels College of Business
Associate Professor, Renowned Speaker

His presentation will provide you with details on what it means to live an authentic life.

April 26, 2016

*The Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative – Collegiate Program is a partnership between the Daniels Fund and ten business schools and one law school at universities across Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming. The program drives principle-based ethics education throughout each participating school, with the ultimate goal of instilling a high standard of ethics in young people. The Daniels College of Business is proud to be part of the Ethics Initiative.
