

PROFESSOR CIOCCHETTI LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION:
CHARACTER AFFIRMATION

Professor Ciocchetti's recommendation letters discuss your academic potential AND your character. He spends a great deal of time getting to know you so that he can personalize your letter and give you the best chance to attain the goals you are seeking. Additionally, his letters are printed on the letterhead of the Business Ethics Department and the Daniels College of Business. Our reputation – and the reputation of DU students past, present and future - is implicated with each recommendation letter we write. The DU Honor Code demands no less.

Therefore, before Professor Ciocchetti writes any recommendation letter, he requires all students to affirm that they are worthy of such a strong character assessment in the letter and of the letterhead it is printed on. This also helps him avoid writing a letter for a student who is currently engaging in criminal or unethical behavior. Please sign below and ask two of your peers and friends to affirm that the following statement is true:

I affirm that I am a person who works on my character and integrity. Further, I do not possess a fake ID. I further affirm that I have not been under the influence of any illegal drugs for at least the past six months.
